RMI: WOWO GAP EXPLORATION PROGRAM EXPANDED

The Directors of Resource Mining Corporation Limited, (ASX:RMI), are pleased to announce the commencement of a drilling program at the company's Wowo Gap project in Papua New Guinea (PNG) as outlined in the June 2010 Quarterly Report.

The company has elected to utilise local labour and services to support this drilling program to maximize local community benefits and increase efficiency. Two drill rigs have been mobilized to site and the first rig has been successfully commissioned during the training of local employees. The exploration activity has been underway for less than a full week with an average of three (3), holes per day being achieved at this very early stage of the program. The second rig will be commissioned in the near future as training continues.

The company's decision to utilise our equipment and train local employees is delivering improved efficiencies and providing new skills to our PNG labour force.

The productivity of these arrangements has exceeded expectations, and the company now anticipates that the planned 200 hole drilling program will be expanded to approximately 240 holes within the existing budget and schedule.

Further updates will be provided as the program continues.

Yours faithfully
